About the University of Colorado Denver Department of Communication

The Department of Communication at CU Denver is a dynamic community of learners and scholars who are committed “to cultivating the knowledge and ability to use communication to create a more equitable and humane world.”

We serve approximately 600 majors, 100 minors, 30 graduate students, and online students from around the world. We are among the first communication programs to establish a cooperative learning agreement with China’s Ministry of Education to offer a CU Denver BA program in Communication at our International College Beijing.

Our alumni form a vibrant group of leaders across many industries, including communication, higher education, justice, healthcare, government, nonprofits, and beyond.

Our faculty and staff are united by a passion for teaching and for fostering meaningful learning opportunities.

Our researchers are well-known leaders in their respective areas of study. Together, they have received more than 15 major awards for research, teaching, and service in the past several years.

We place a premium on experiential learning and high impact teaching practices, stressing service learning, civic engagement, internships, travel study and writing-intensive practices. We are one of the largest service learning providers to Junior Achievement, sending hundreds of students each year into local Denver schools to practice public speaking with K-12 students.

We invite you to stop by our offices on the third floor of the Student Commons Building at 1201 Larimer Street or find us online at
