RESOURCES

Colorado Department of Labor and Employment - Database of job listings and links to local Workforce Centers, which offer career counseling, job training, grants (either for education or unpaid positions), resume services, etc. Workforce Centers can also provide wage data and saturation rates for specific careers or fields.

Connecting Colorado – Database of job listings. Job seekers can post their resumes and be entered into a talent pool.

CU Denver Career Center - According to their website, "Topics of drop-ins or appointments can cover any career related need: choosing a major, making a career change, developing a career plan, building a resume, interviewing assistance, job search assistance, graduate school search and applications, building your professional image, and even LinkedIn profile reviews."

CU Denver Experiential Learning Center - Helps students get hands-on experience in the fields they’re interested in. Works with community partners and employers to provide internships, undergraduate research opportunities, and professional development.

Denver Economic Development and Opportunity - Assists job seekers in their searches and can connect them to local Workforce Centers.

Handshake - Career resource platform used by CU Denver. Students can create accounts to view internship/job listings, connect with employers or organizations, post online resumes, etc.

Lynx Connect - Made up of CU Denver Career Center, Experiential Learning Center (ELC), Global Education/Study Abroad, and Undergrad Research. They provide career planning and counseling, help students find internships and jobs, help with resumes, and interview training.

Onet.org - Offers tailored job listings that can be narrowed by titles or skill sets, and links to career search resources.
