

MICHAEL A. KOZAKOWSKI

Instructor of Modern European History
University of Colorado Denver
Office Phone: 303-315-1738
michael.kozakowski@ucdenver.edu

Department of History
Campus Box 182
P.O. Box 173364
Denver, CO 80217-3364

Employment

Instructor of Modern European History (August 2015- Present) – University of Colorado Denver
Max Weber Fellow (September 2014 – August 2015) – European University Institute, Florence

Education

Ph.D. in History (August 2014) – University of Chicago

Dissertation: “From the Mediterranean to Europe: Migrants, the World of Work, and the Transformation of the French Mediterranean, 1945-1974”

Committee Members: Leora Auslander (chair), Tara Zahra, and Mauricio Tenorio

M.A. in International History (December 2008) – University of Chicago

Thesis: A Racial Guide to Greater France: Tourist Guidebooks, Race & French North Africa

B.S. in Foreign Service, International History Major (May 2005) – Georgetown University, Walsh School of Foreign Service – Graduated summa cum laude

Visiting Student (September 2003 - June 2004) – St. Peter’s College, Oxford University

Previous (Non-Academic) Employment

Healthcare Research Associate/Research Analyst/Senior Research Analyst

(August 2005 - August 2007) – The Advisory Board Company, Washington, DC

Publications

“Making ‘Mediterranean Migrants’: Geopolitical Transitions, Migratory Policy, and French Conceptions of the Mediterranean in the 20th Century,” Cahiers de la Méditerranée, no. 89 (December 2014): 181-194.

“Skilled Transformations: Algerian Migrants, Vocational Training, and the Tensions of Trans-Mediterranean Citizenship, 1945-1974” (under review)

Current Research Projects

Migration and the Transformation of the Western Mediterranean: Economic Development, Decolonization, and European Integration, 1945-1975 (revised dissertation manuscript)

“Mediterranean Migration and the Racial Imagination of the French Empire, 1830-1939” (co-authored with Christina Carroll)

“Protecting the Nation’s Own, Abroad: Migrants, Welfare, and the Redefinition of the Spanish State, 1898-1939”

Research Awards and Fellowships

Max Weber Fellow (September 2014 – August 2015) – European University Institute, Florence
Hanna Holborn Gray Fellow (2011-2013) – Mellon Foundation/University of Chicago
Visiting Fellow (2010-2011) – Institut des Etudes Politiques-Paris (Sciences Po)
Program for Cultural Cooperation between United States Universities and Spain's Ministry of Culture, Dissertation Research Grant (2010) – Spain's Ministry of Culture
Cochrane and Sinkler Research Travel Grants (Summer 2010) – University of Chicago
Kunstadter Research Travel Grant (Summer 2009) – University of Chicago
Tinker Field Research Grant (Summer 2009) – Tinker Foundation
Social Sciences Divisional Fellowship (2007-2010) – University of Chicago

Teaching Awards

Von Holst Prize Lectureship (2012) – University of Chicago for the course, “Transnational History of the Mediterranean since 1798”

Teaching Experience

Teaching Assistant/Teaching Intern at the University of Chicago:

“History of European Civilization: Part II,” with John Craig (Spring 2010)
“Power, Identity and Resistance: Part III,” with Sarah Graff (Spring 2010)
“Power, Identity and Resistance: Part II,” with Max Whyte (Winter 2010)
“An Empire Revisited: A Reconsideration of the Spanish Empire,” with Josep Fradera
(Autumn 2009)

Undergraduate Courses Taught

“The World at War, 1914-1945” (Fall 2015 and Spring 2016) – University of Colorado Denver
“Controversies in History: Historical Debates and Methods” (Fall 2015 and Spring 2016) –
University of Colorado Denver
“Transnational History of the Mediterranean since 1798” (Winter 2012) – University of Chicago
and (Autumn 2010) – Institut des Etudes Politiques-Paris (Sciences Po)

Undergraduate/Graduate Courses Taught

“Enlightenment and Revolution: A Long 18th Century?” (Autumn 2015) –
University of Colorado Denver

Graduate Courses Taught

“Migrations: Mobility and Dislocation” (Spring 2016) – University of Colorado Denver
“Nations and Empires” (Winter 2015), co-taught with Pieter Judson and Lucy Riall –
European University Institute

Conference and Panel Co-Organization

9th Annual June Conference, an Interdisciplinary Conference on Social Science Research (June 10-12, 2015), European University Institute – Florence, Italy.

“Making Migrants: Work, Money, and Shifting Perceptions of Migrants in France’s Post-War Moments,” a Panel Presented (April 4-7, 2013) at the 59th Annual Meeting, Society for French Historical Studies – Cambridge, Massachusetts, USA.

Conference Presentations

“Rethinking Postwar Migration through the Mediterranean” (upcoming, January 7-10, 2016). 130th Annual Meeting, American Historical Association – Atlanta, Georgia, USA.

Chair for Panel, “Youth and Family Life: Socialization and Rights,” 9th Annual June Conference. (June 10-12, 2015). European University Institute – Florence, Italy.

Discussant for Roundtable with Frederick Cooper, “Citizenship between Empire and Nation: Remaking France and French Africa, 1945-1960,” (June 9, 2015). European University Institute – Florence, Italy.

“Revisiting Prosperity: Migrants, the Mediterranean, and the Making of the ‘Trente Glorieuses,’” (April 16-19, 2015). 60th Annual Meeting, Society for French Historical Studies – Colorado Springs, Colorado, USA.

“Migration in the Crucible of Decolonization,” (February 16-17, 2015). Freie Universität Berlin, (De-)Colonizing Knowledge: Figures, Narratives, and Practices Workshop – Berlin, Germany.

“The Borders of the State: Mediterranean Migration in the Age of Decolonization and European Integration,” (December 4-6, 2014). European University Institute, Crossings and Circulations in the Atlantic and Indian Oceans and the Mediterranean since 1450 Conference – Florence, Italy.

“Re-thinking France through the Mediterranean: Moving Beyond Bilateral and (Post)-Colonial Paradigms of Migration,” (August 27-28, 2014). University of St. Andrews, France and its Global Histories Workshop – St. Andrews, United Kingdom.

“Migrants in Motion, Migrant Promotion: Transportation, Labor Integration, and the Politics of Difference in Postwar France, 1944-1954,” (April 24-27, 2014). 60th Annual Meeting, Society for French Historical Studies – Montreal, Canada.

“Grenzen der Zugehörigkeit: Französischer Diskurs über Migranten und dem Mittelmeerraum, 1830-2008” [Boundaries of Belonging: French Discourses on Migrants and the Mediterranean, 1830-2008] (November 15-16, 2013). 4th Bochumer Nachwuchsworkshop für MediterranistInnen – Bochum, Germany.

- “Making ‘Mediterranean Migrants’: A Crossed History of the Conceptions and Political Economy of Migration During the First Two Decades of the EEC,” (November 8-9, 2013). Université de Nice Sophia-Antipolis, Recompositions géopolitiques en Méditerranée: un défi pour les Mediterranean Studies – Nice, France.
- “The Migrant Worker and Post-WWII Hierarchies of Labor: Between Discourses of Skill and Practices of Employment,” (April 4-7, 2013). 59th Annual Meeting, Society for French Historical Studies – Cambridge, Massachusetts, USA.
- “Training France’s Transnational Workforce: Colonial Development, International Cooperation, & Adult Vocational Formation in the Western Mediterranean, 1944-1974,” (July 1-3, 2012). Society for the Study of French History, 26th Annual Conference – York, United Kingdom.
- “Economies of Migration: The Business and Social Practices of Migration between Algeria and France, 1944-1974,” (May 2, 2012). University of Portsmouth, Doing Research In and On Algeria Symposium – Portsmouth, United Kingdom.
- “Social Policies and Migration: The European Frontier?” (October 27-29, 2011). University of Minnesota, Rethinking Europe Conference, Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minnesota, USA.
- “Unions of the French Mediterranean? Migration in an Age of National Development and European Integration, 1944-1974,” (April 8-9, 2011). University of Michigan, Mediterranean Topographies Symposium – Ann Arbor, Michigan, USA.

Guest Speaking and Workshops

- Public Speaker, “Perspectives on the Syrian Refugee Crisis” (upcoming, October 22, 2015), University of Colorado Denver International Studies Student Association – Denver, Colorado.
- Guest Lecturer, “Assessing Violence after World War II,” (May 13, 2015), Universitat Pompeu Fabra – Barcelona, Spain.
- Graduate Workshop Organizer, “Migration in Europe: Contemporary Issues, Historical Perspectives,” (April 27, 2015), College of Europe, Natolin Campus – Warsaw, Poland.

Institutional Service (Select)

- 2015-Present at the University of Colorado Denver
 Affiliated Faculty Member, International Studies Program
 Assessment Committee Member, History Department
 Examiner, History Graduate Student Comprehensive Examinations
- Spring 2015 at the European University Institute
 Organizing Committee Member, Max Weber Programme, 9th Annual June Conference

Research Languages

English, French, Spanish, German, Italian, Catalan