

FRENCH LANGUAGE AND CIVILIZATION IN PROVENCE

SUMMER
FREN 3995/4995
3 - 7 CREDITS

France

In this short-term study abroad students will be immersed in both the French language and the beautiful, ancient town of Aix-en-Provence, France. Participants in this three-week program will live with a carefully selected French host family, and earn between three and seven CU Denver credits. Students will take:

- 1) an appropriate-level French language course at the Institute for American Universities (located in the historic center of Aix-en-Provence), and/or
- 2) a course on French civilization in which the class will study the evolution of French history, society and culture through class lectures, readings, and visits to museums, monuments, churches, and ancient historical sites. This course will be taught in English, but advanced students of French may opt (with instructor and French section advisor permission) to do their coursework in French in order to gain upper division credit toward their minor or major.

What is a CU Denver Global Study program?

A Global Study program is a CU Denver course that takes place in another part of the world. CU Denver faculty lead and teach a wide range of Global Study programs worldwide. Students have the extraordinary opportunity to engage with the location and their professor. These programs are designed with the CU Denver student body in mind: costs are reasonable and they are short-term to allow busy students to fit studying abroad into their schedule. This course also fulfills the International Perspectives requirement.

Financial Aid

CU Denver students may be able to use their existing financial aid for Global Study programs. Note that Maymester programs are considered part of the Summer term for financial aid. In order to be eligible for financial aid, students must be registered for at least half-time status (6 credits for undergraduates, 3 credits for graduates) during the Summer term. For more information, contact the Financial Aid and Scholarship Office at 303-315-1850 or send an email to financialaid@ucdenver.edu. Please add "Study Abroad" to the subject heading when sending emails to this email address as this will ensure that your message is routed to a study abroad financial aid advisor.
